

Teacher Trajectories: Teachers' motivations, experiences, and decision-making across career stages

Information sheet - Surveys

Kia ora,

The New Zealand Council for Educational Research (NZCER) invites you to take part in a research project exploring Māori and non-Māori teachers' motivations, experiences, and career decisions across different stages of their careers, and how these relate to their professional capabilities. There are no right or wrong answers in these surveys - we are interested in your perspectives and experiences.

Here's what you need to know:

- This survey will take approximately 10 minutes to complete.
- This survey is voluntary and you may exit at any time before submitting your responses.
- Your responses are anonymous and will be kept confidential.
- Findings will be used for research to better understand and support the teaching profession in Aotearoa New Zealand.
- At the end of the survey, you may choose to enter a prize draw to win one of five $100 vouchers. You may also choose to provide contact details if you are interested in taking part in follow-up interviews or future studies. Any contact details provided will be stored separately from your survey responses.
- We are unable to remove your data after you submit your survey given the anonymous nature of the study.

Thank you so much for your time and help with this evaluation. If you have any questions about the survey, please contact the NZCER team by emailing Teachertrajectories@nzcer.org.nz.
