

Contents

Preface	iv
PART 1 INTRODUCTION
Chapter 1 Purposeful research design for contextually relevant research Ruth Boyask	3
Chapter 2 Researching with integrity: When the insides of our work match the outsides Selena Meiklejohn-Whiu, Jacoba Matapo, Rebecca Jesson, and Janet Gaffney	19
Chapter 3 Bridges and gaps, thresholds and maps: Metaphors and strategies to guide research literature reviews Nicole Pepperell	34
Chapter 4 The role of conceptual and theoretical frameworks Leon Benade	47
PART 2 CORE
Chapter 5 Qualitative research: An introduction Stephanie Doyle and Judith Loveridge	63
Chapter 6 Quantitative research methods Kane Meissel and Gavin T. L. Brown	83
Chapter 7 Mixed methods research: Theory, applications, and implications for working with diverse populations Mohamed Alansari, Melinda Webber, and Christine Rubie-Davies	98
Chapter 8 Tikanga Māori as research methods Maia Hetaraka	113
Chapter 9 Pacific research in Aotearoa New Zealand: An introduction Tim Baice and Tanya Wendt Samu	134
Chapter 10 Doing reflexive thematic analysis: A reflexive account Eileen Joy, Virginia Braun, and Victoria Clarke	155
Chapter 11 Becoming an academic writer Joanna Higgins, Suskya Goodall, and Grant Zouch	172
Chapter 12 Taking the driver's seat in your research journey: Making the most of supervision and professional learning Katrina McChesney	181

Chapter 13 Research investigating education policy implementation in Aotearoa	194
Robin Averill, Hiria McRae, Fuapepe Rimoni, and Karyn Saunders
Chapter 14 Complexity thinking and educational research	206
Jane Gilbert
Chapter 15 Duty to share: Dissemination for impact on practice	218
Laura A. Chubb and Christa B. Fouché
 PART 3 SHOWCASE
Chapter 16 The application of Pacific research approaches calls for a paradigmatic shift in researcher–participant relationship	235
Malaetogia Jacinta Fa'alili-Fidow
Chapter 17 Evaluation research: Addressing questions about worth and value	244
Kelsey Deane
Chapter 18 Evaluating change over time: Tests and measures	254
Gavin T. L. Brown
Chapter 19 Māori language proficiency testing for Māori by Māori in te reo Māori	260
Katarina Edmonds
Chapter 20 Working quantitatively with ethnicity data	268
Esther S. Yao
Chapter 21 Critical autoethnography: Positioning the researcher as central to an exploration of complex issues in our communities of practice	276
Esther Fitzpatrick
Chapter 22 Website analysis in qualitative research	284
Lisa Darragh
Chapter 23 Critical reflection as methodology in research within the helping professions	291
Matt Rankine
Chapter 24 Arts-based research	299
Naashia Mohamed
Chapter 25 Design-based methodology	305
Nigel Calder and Kate Rhodes
Chapter 26 Letter writing as qualitative inquiry among children and adolescents	313
Pat Bullen
Chapter 27 Listening and responding to the voices of tamariki and rangatahi in research	321
Susan Sandretto and Stephen Davis
About the authors	328
Index	341