Contents

Foreword x
Preface xiii
Acknowledgements xvi

PART 1: KEY CONCEPTS OF GIFTEDNESS IN THE EARLY YEARS
Chapter 1: Introduction and definitions of giftedness in the early years 1
Caterina Murphy and Deborah Walker
Chapter 2: Identifying characteristics of giftedness in the early years 14
Caterina Murphy and Sue Breen
Chapter 3: Through the lens of play: Complexities of giftedness 38
Caterina Murphy

PART 2: PURPOSEFUL AND AUTHENTIC ASSESSMENT PRACTICES
Chapter 4: Assessment for learning with young gifted children 57
Jo Dean and Valerie Margrain
Chapter 5: Looking at learning: Narratives of young gifted children 75
Jo Dean, Carola Sampson, Annette Preston and Emma Wallace

PART 3: SUPPORTING QUALITY PRACTICE
Chapter 6: The myth busters: Fearless, inclusive teaching for young gifted children 105
Melanie Wong and Valerie Margrain
Chapter 7: Social and emotional issues for young gifted children 128
Carola Sampson
Chapter 8: Opening the treasure chest: Differentiation for young children who are gifted 142
Caterina Murphy
Chapter 9: Talking together: Supporting gifted children and positive transitions to school 163
Monica Cameron and Valerie Margrain
Chapter 10: Liam’s story: At risk of underachievement 181
Carola Sampson

PART 4: POSSIBILITIES FOR EMPOWERMENT
Chapter 11: Supporting the advocates of young gifted children: Weaving connections and inspiration 200
Valerie Margrain and Jo Dean
Author biographies

Appendices

Appendix A: Two models of giftedness
Appendix B: Characteristics of giftedness in the early years
Appendix C: Peer nomination form for use with 3- and 4-year old children
Appendix D: Parent reflection statements
Appendix E: Play patterns of young children who are gifted
Appendix F: Myths and responses: Giftiness in the early years
Appendix G: ‘Excitabilities’ and strategies
Appendix H: Differentiation, metaphor and practice
Appendix I: Applying a taxonomy to differentiation in the early years
Appendix J: Teacher reflective questions
Appendix K: School communication strategies valued by parents

Figures

Figure 1.1. Gagné’s Differentiated Model of Giftedness and Talent (DMGT)
Figure 1.2. Three-Ring Conception of Giftedness
Figure 5.1. Documenting the physical capabilities of a young toddler
Figure 5.2. Jackson’s teachers support literacy skills and technology interests
Figure 5.3. Jackson’s parents share his interests from home with his teachers
Figure 5.4. Dereck’s intense interest and understanding of Māori legends
Figure 5.5. Dereck learning about the legend of the stingray
Figure 5.6. Emma shares her interest and knowledge of plants
Figure 5.7. Showing a strong sense of creativity
Figure 5.8. Developing a plan for Emma
Figure 5.9. Demonstrating the concept of distance
Figure 6.1. Becoming fearless in supporting gifted children: an illustrative model
Figure 10.1. Gagné’s Differentiated Model of Giftedness and Talent applied to Liam
Figure 11.1. Children role-playing the story of The Three Billy Goats Gruff
Figure 11.2. Textile board created by children in a kindergarten
Figure A.1. Gagné’s Differentiated Model of Giftedness and Talent (DMGT)
Figure A.2. Three-ring Conception of Giftedness
Tables
Table 4.1. Dispositions and curriculum connections  65
Table 7.1. Excitabilities and support strategies  138
Table 8.1. Differentiation, metaphor and practice connections  147
Table 8.2. Bloom’s Taxonomy applied to young children and zebra learning  158
Table 9.1. Teacher communication strategies valued by parents  168
Table 11.1. The child’s questions connected to considerations for gifted education in the early years  204
Table 11.2. Four national gifted education organisations and selected aims  207
Table F.1. Common myths about giftedness in the early years, with suggested responses  230
Table G.1. ‘Excitabilities’, behavioural indicators and useful support strategies  232
Table H.1. Differentiation, metaphor and practice connections  234
Table I.1. Bloom’s Taxonomy applied to young children and zebra learning  235
Table K.1. Categorised school communication strategies valued by parents  237

Index  238